

Radiant

by Randal Marsh

A fantastic game of clever card play and conquest!

Join the war for Perim, where Avis scouts soar in the clouds, Treefolk assassins swing through the forests, and Mariner knights ride fantastic mounts to island temples. Draft your army and carefully manage your warriors to lead the battle through the four realms. But be careful; if you lose control of the conflict you may find yourself in a difficult land. Come live the ages of the Radiant!

Warning: This game is not intended for children. Contains small parts.
